Libby, Thanks very much. Can you tell me how much the invoices for the Pocatello trip add up to? Heather, please let me know how much you have planned for David through the end of December. I need this information this morning. Thanks. -Jan

Hi Jan,

I figured it'd be easier to write this up in email, but if you have any questions, of course feel free to give me a call back. I'll be around today, but will be out the rest of the week for the holiday.

There is currently $72,259.45 remaining on the Pocatello TO. However, our accounting system does not yet take the invoices for David's trip to Pocatello into account. (I just received those invoices from his company yesterday, so I hope those will hit the system before the end of the month, but I truly have no idea.)

I'm not sure how much work Heather has planned for the TO in the next month and a half. With that information, I can make a better estimate of how much will be left at the end of the year. Right now, David isn't doing any specific work.

Heather – Do you know how much you'll expect David to work this month and in December?

If you don't expect much work, then I would imagine there will be at least $60,000 remaining in the budget from this year. But, if there is work expected for the rest of the year, that number will go down, depending on the level of effort. If Heather can chime in, then I can give you a more concrete number.

Thanks,

Libby
